Cat Emergencies - Would You Recognize One?

We watch our cats closely to be sure they're ok - what and how much they eat, litter box use, how playful they are, water drinking, are their gums pink, just to name a few. As good and watchful cat parents, we know that catching a problem early could keep our fur kids from becoming very sick.

Cats are notoriously good at masking pain and other symptoms - it's part of their evolution and helped them to survive. While it's always good to monitor your cat for subtle signs of distress or illness, it's also important to know what signs of distress are considered to be emergencies.

Catster.com published a very helpful list of emergency situations that require immediate veterinary attention for all pet owners. They note that, while this is a great list, other situations might arise that don't exactly match what's included. So, as with every pet health situation, if you are at all concerned, call your vet right away. If it's after hours or on a weekend, many areas now have emergency veterinary clinics that will be ready to help your pet.

Catster.com's list of emergency situations includes:

- 1. Difficulty breathing
- 2. Abnormal urination in male cat
- 3. Signs of severe pain or obvious distress (including meowing or howling, panting, hiding and reaction to touch)
- 4. Sudden paralysis of the hind end
- 5. Stopping eating and/or drinking
- 6. Protracted vomiting and/or diarrhea
- 7. Known ingestion of toxins
- 8. Profound lethargy or collapse
- 9. Seizure
- 10. Major trauma (including gaping wounds or hemorrhaging)
- 11. Fights with other cats

The BCR family is full of wonderful people who truly love the cats and we want you to meet them! Each BCR cat sponsor gets a set of questions to answer and asked to send along a photo of themselves or with their cat(s). Are you interested in being in the Sponsor Spotlight? Email us and let us know!

How did you first learn about BCR?

I read Homer's Odyssey by Gwen Cooper and had to learn more. I found BCR online and thought Snicker was the cutest guy I'd seen and was hooked. It amazes me how the cats don't know they are blind!

Have you visited and, if so, what did you enjoy most? What surprised you most?

I haven't yet, but I would love to! So many kitties and so many snuggles to give !!

If you haven't yet visited, what are you most excited about when you do?

Playing with the cats, meeting my sponsor kitty, and meeting Alana and her team. I have heard so many amazing things from visitors and can't wait to see it firsthand. I may never leave!

What cat or cats do you sponsor? Why did you choose them?

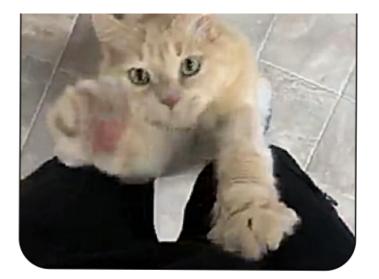

I sponsored Sheila first. I chose her because she only had one sponsor and her markings reminded me of my kitty who has since crossed the Rainbow Bridge. After Sheila passed, I sponsored Ginger. I picked him for his cool name and pretty markings. After Ginger passed, I chose Lynx. His giant bunny feet won me over. I consider all of my BCR sponsor kitties to be part of my pack and love them like my own!

If you could tell people one thing about BCR, what would it be?

How AMAZING it is! I love what Alana has done for the kitties and the education she gives to others. I've reached out to her before and she is always prompt to respond. I would send anyone to BCR for education, both on blind cats and FIV or FELV. BCR is a wealth of information! Get involved with them, they are simply the best!

August 1 is coming fast!

Bear wants you to know that he needs your new address no later than August 1 to make sure BCR can reach you during the holidays! He asks you to please send your new address to him by July 31!

We do not share any personal information with other organizations or individuals.

THE CATS ASK YOU TO PLEASE DONATE YOUR BIRTHDAY!

The cats hope you'll create Facebook birthday donation fundraiser to help them! They know how easy it is and how much it helps them! Every birthday donation your friends make for your fundraiser helps the cats get the things they need, like:

Food ** Medicines ** Regular vet checkups ** Dental vet visits ** Supplies

YOU can help make it possible for them to have the healthy and happy lives they deserve.

Set up is fun - use this link to go to Facebook and follow the instructions. Personalize your message, ask your friends and family to donate to your special cause, set a target, and even monitor how it's going and say thanks when your friends contribute!

The cats send a big thank you PURR to those who have already donated a birthday in 2020!
